

TRAGIC DEATH OF MRS. J. O. BOGSTIE IN FLORIDA

STOLE RIDE ON FREIGHT TRAIN
BRUTALLY WHIPPED WHILE IN CONVICT CAMP AND SUFFERING FROM FEVER

That a brother of one of our Glen ladies should have been involved in a Florida convict camp until death reached a few days later is almost unbelievable.

But such was the fate of a brother of Mrs. J. O. Bogstie, of Glen, who all for a few days later is almost unbelievable.

But such was the fate of a brother of Mrs. J. O. Bogstie, of Glen, who all for a few days later is almost unbelievable.

The newspapers have printed columns concerning this horrible story but it was not known, save by a few that the poor boy had any relatives in these parts, which brings the tragedy right to home.

Mrs. Bogstie is well-known and highly respected throughout this district, as they have and Mrs. Bogstie is one of our most prominent prominent ladies.

The following dispatch tells briefly of the terrible story being sent from Tallahassee, Florida.

The joint commission of the Florida legislature, investigating reported brutalities in state and convict camps heard gruesome testimony in connection with the death of Martin Talbert, of North Dakota, who had been serving a sentence in the camp of the Putnam County convict guard.

A. B. Shivers, former convict guard at the Putnam camp, held the committee spellbound as he related how prisoners were flogged by the "whip, pin, box." He declared whipping was a daily occurrence. Shivers, former Walter Higginbotham, now under a first grade prison term, testified that he had seen Talbert, one of the camp, and who gave Talbert more than 100 licks, he said, with a heavy strap four days on each man.

He said on each man.

Mrs. J. B. Jones admitted that he had entered into a contract with the Putnam company where he was to receive $20 for each man, and he delivered to the camp. He further admitted that after adding various fees and deducting cost of transportation of prisoners under guard from Tallahassee to the camp, a distance of 60 miles, he would receive an average of approximately $23 on each prisoner.

Shivers testified that many of the prisoners under his supervision, Talbert worked in his camp—were forced to work from 6 a.m. to sundown in the summer in what was known as the "ankle to the hip" in depth.

When they returned to the guard-house one night Higginbotham, Shivers declared, told the prisoners and called Talbert out of the line "to get down. Higginbotham told Talbert," Shivers said, "The only way down on his stomach," the witness said.

Higginbotham pulled up his shirt sleeve. He gave him about 50 licks as Talbert groined out and begged for mercy. Talbert kept on twisting his body, and Higginbotham placed the heel of his boot on the youth's neck, to make him keep his body rigid. He then gave him about 40 or 50 more licks.

Higginbotham told Talbert to get up and the boy was a little slow about it. He Higginbotham said he "put" and pushed the boy down on the ground about 25 licks. He told Talbert to get up and when the boy, exhausted, got up, Higginbotham made a pass at him with the handle of the strap. He missed him and Talbert staggered around in a dazed circle with Higginbotham hitting him over the head and shoulder," declared Shivers.

When Mrs. Bogstie said it was true that the son of the late brother of her wife, and added that the terrible news has almost entirely distressed Mrs. Bogstie.

He said it was hard enough when they first got word that he had died in Florida from fever, but when they had to be buried there, and to the letter added the intelligence he had been given a Christian burial.

He said Martin had taken a notion to see other parts of the world and some money in his pocket started from him, he was in Minneapolis, Dakota.

In December, 1921, he was in Florida.

GLEICHEN ARMORY OPENS WEDNESDAY, MAY 9

The formal opening of the Armory will take place on the evening of May 9th, when it is expected that General Bell, of Calgary, will be present.

Some two years ago a communication was received from militia headquarters by Major Lewis, regarding the establishment of a battery of the Canadian Field Artillery at Gleichen.

Some further correspondence ensued with the result that Major Lewis was asked to take command, and in December of last year, an officer was sent to look for the most suitable location for an armory. The former hall of the Masonic Temple was secured, tenders were called for by the Department of Public Works for the necessary alterations and enlargement of the building. Mr. J. J. Robinson was the successful tenderer, and work was started on the 1st of January and completed by the end of February. Stores started to come on the 1st of March, and at the present time the equipment is complete.

The building is one of the most up-to-date, that could be looked for in a country town. Every accessory to gunnery work is at the disposal of the recruits, and nothing has been left wanting which could add to the comfort of the men.

Recruiting started on the 1st of April, and is still going on. It is expected that the Battery, which is now known as the 28th Battery of the Canadian Field Artillery, will go to practice camp at Sarcee from the 7th to 14th of July, and the probabilities are that a local camp will be held at Gleichen prior to proceeding to Sarcee for gun practice.

The equipment of the Battery consists of 4-18 "ouner 2" r. Guns, ammunition wagons, harness and horse equipments, 24 sets of saddlery, uniforms, telegraph and telephone equipment, all signalling apparatus, complete cores for gas battery equipment which includes range finders, telescopes, directors, etc.

The officers of the Battery are as follows: Commanding officer, Major A. G. B. Lewis; Captain, G. H. Goodenham, second in command. Lieutenant, Randolph A. Austin, right section commander.

Lieutenant, L. M. Webster, left section commander; Lieutenant, John Moore who is attached to the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, is at present acting sergeant-major.

Quartermaster Sergeant, R. M. Stabback. Sergeant, James Eggen.

This comprises the officers and non-commissioned officers of the Battery at present, the list will be added to, as the recruiting and drill progresses.

envelope with Talbert's home address. It was just this fortunate and fortuitous coincidence which brought the story to the surface and prevented the victim from being just one more of the great army of "planting men" whose fate will never be known.

His relative at once got busy and county attorney at his own expense went to Florida, and also a judge. Hearing they report found in March took up the matter and his home people fully subscribed $10,000 to investigate further, with the result that the wife is now involved in the case that may take weeks to terminate.

It is, as we already know, how best Higginbotham is proven guilty, there are not a few in Gleichen who wish that Mr. Bogstie could be Saturday next, expressed desire to be appointed executor for he would surely deal out some misery.

It hardly seems adequate to extend to Mrs. Bogstie sympathy in her awful anguish on learning of the terrible sufferings of her brother but death released him.

GUIDEFELLOWS' 10TH ANNIVERSARY

GLEICHEN HOSPITAL RE-OPENED MONDAY LAST

On Monday Nurse Green who will recently have been in charge of the Stathene hospital arrived in Gleichen to take charge of the Gleichen Hospital, which she has since reopened and is expecting her first patients to be brought in today.

Nurse Green is already known to many throughout this district, all of whom will be glad to hear she has accepted the charge of the Gleichen Hospital. She is not only a registered nurse of wide experience, but is also a gold-medalist.

She is accompanied by a housekeeper, and as it is announced the rates will be reasonable under the new management all will be pleased to learn of the re-opening of this institution, which is so greatly required in this district.

DELIBERATELY ENDS HIS LIFE WITH SHOT GUN

(Special from our Arrowwood Corres.) John Mitchell, a fatherless boy, sixteen years of age and unmarried, who has been residing with his brother, Alex, Mitchell, of the same name, and his boys, sixteen miles north of Vulcan, was found dead in an alcove of the hotel, about 5:30 a.m. of Monday, April 16th.

When a shot was fired in the morning his brother, Alex, heard a sound of something falling downstairs. The house is quite large and as the sound was from a distance of the building it could not be heard distinctly, however, it was about the usual hour at which the family arose, he and his wife arose and went down. Noticing that his brother had not built the fire, as was his usual custom, he thought little of it for his brother had laid plans the evening before to start plowing the following morning, he proceeded to the barn, where he found the horse.

He then made a search and found his brother in the alcove sitting in an arm chair with his head "in" a long while for he said; but could stand it no longer. No one seems to be able to fix the meaning of this note, thus far.

The deceased has always been a member of the St. Andrew's church, a member of the Presbyterian church. The funeral services were conducted last Wednesday by Rev. W. C. Lyle.

The sincere sympathy of the entire community is extended to the bereaved family in their great sorrow.

Those in the readers of the Call include his two brothers, Alex and John, his mother, who resides in Calgary.

A KINDLY WORD TO CALL SUBSCRIBERS IN ARREARS

There being several hundred subscribers now in arrears for the Call and finding that we have not the time necessary to give the collection of fairly small accounts we have arranged with a firm who make subscription collecting their entire business, to take over all these accounts, and now ask all in arrears to give this fair consideration. We are not stopping your paper, but we are endeavoring to get the Call on a cash basis, and we certainly need the money no other way to meet our many expenses. We are prepared to make any reasonable arrangement for payment of overdue accounts, and hope and trust all will take this intimation in the kindly spirit it is intended with a ready reply to the firm of collectors so soon as they hear from them.

Consequently once again the predicament of a farmer would be in who sold 1000 bushels of wheat or corn and even a number in the Old World. What a time he would have collecting?

That is the predicament we find ourselves in presently, and do you blame us for wanting to get on a cash basis. Please do your best for we must meet our payments to others.

W. Park Evans, Proprietor.

CORN GROWING FOR SILAGE

(Experimental Farm Notes)

The growth of silage crops has become more common in Western Canada during the past year or two, and one of the questions is best asked on this purpose is as follows:

Over a large portion of the southern half of the province silage crops can be grown profitably and, in any year, very satisfactory yields, will yield from 10 to 15 tons per acre. The average yield of the field tests of ensilage crops for the past ten years on the Experimental Farm at Indian Head is almost ten tons to the acre:

The variety which yields the most silage, in North Western Dent. Other varieties may be more adapted to some districts, but for silage purposes and average conditions this variety is very suitable, as it gives a fairly good yield of fodder and will usually be sufficiently mature to make a first class quality silage.

Ground which otherwise would be summer-fallowed is entirely suitable for growing corn. The method of preparation which appears to give the best results is that of manuring and plowing the ground. This gives an increased yield over spring plowing. The spring growth of silage crops can be cut in early June and the silage can be used for silage before the corn is sown, and the harvesting just after the corn is ripe will also destroy a large number of weeds.

The date for seeding which gives the best yield is between May 15 and 20th to the end of May. Later seeding than this decreases the yield considerably. Various methods of planting the corn are followed, and all have their advocates. Check-planting, or planting in hills three feet apart each year, permits of killing the weeds with very little necessity for hand labor. The ordinary two-row cultivator being able to destroy all but a small percentage of the weeds. A corn planter is necessary for the check row planting, and this is the most satisfactory implement. It is used when the corn is planted in rows, as the amount of seed can be regulated accurately. It can be made by its use. There is five seeds per hill will be sufficient. In sowing in drills the drills should be three feet apart and the drill regulated to drop, as nearly as possible, one seed every six inches in the drill.

It is desirable to harrow corn as it is coming up, as this does not injure it materially and will destroy thousands of small weeds. The number of cultivations required will depend largely on the weed growth, but usually three thorough cultivations will be sufficient to keep down the weed and promote the best development of the crop.

The corn will make the best quality of silage if allowed to grow until the kernels have reached the stage of maturity, or a little past the time when the ears are suitable for roasting.

The best implement for cutting the corn, by a number of neighbors, chop it, of course, the corn blades, being together, the great cost of the machine can be greatly reduced.

A woman seldom thinks a man is as mean as he knows he is.

ALLOW A CHANCE TO EXPLAIN

In the debate in the Legislature on the motion proposed by the Greenfield proposing that alternative questions be asked on the subject of the new legislation, he was not a plebiscite at the same time in the referendum on the hotelman's petition.

Under the new law, the average citizen as follows: J. C. Buckley, A. G. Gleichen. Another prohibitionist who had fought the bringing in of the new plebiscite petition on the score that they were improperly signed, was a second speaker who urged that no referendum on liquor legislation should be held until it was certain to the persons who had signed the petition asking for the sale of beer only.

That was the only question that should be put up to the people under the Direct Legislation Act. If a majority of the people said it should be made the law, then it was the business of the legislature to do so. There had been an attempt in his own constituency to start petitions asking for government control, and the fact that they had failed to get sufficient signatures was evidence that people did not desire the law. "For the question to the people that when he had asked for," he urged, and when the vote is taken and if it is defeated, we should not let the Direct Legislation Act so that these petitions cannot count. It is to be put in the year after year, the term should be made long enough so that the government will not be able to get the law in sufficient before another petition asking for a vote on it is made to be put in.

The above has been subject to a lot of adverse criticism, especially concerning the statement that the government control petition failed to get sufficient signatures because "the people did not want it." This is so far from the truth that it is only fair that criticism should be withheld until Mr. Buckley has had a chance to qualify or correct the report. All know how freely the people came in to sign the petition and that the number of signatures was sufficient to draw back the ridiculous manner in which the law is framed to make such a petition legal.

It is difficult to believe that our members could have intentionally made such a statement in the House or anywhere else. Could it be that the "train" got the best of him in the heat of the debate?

Stied over from last issue. One of our members in the U.F.A. in the last regular meeting spoke of the difference of the crop from a well cultivated farm and that from one in which the stubbling method was employed. The difference is indeed quite noticeable. A portion of trying financial conditions often leads to more thorough methods in business as well as agriculture, and often proves a value teaching course, as well as conservation of all things of which there is a limited supply, and, of course, in our case that pertains to the conservation of moisture as well as "dough."

The Yukon Territory is rapidly repopulating the inhabitants. In 1911 the population was 7,717 and in 1921 it had dwindled down to 4,157.

In an address to the historians in Montreal last week, J. W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, made a pointed statement to the effect that Canada needs more capital for its development and more men for the same purpose.

An old-time stampede will be held at Calgary, Alta., between July 10 and July 16, 1922. The programme will include stampeding, roping, stunts, bronco busting, and fancy riding and vaulting.

Canada's exports to the United States in 1921 were valued at $24,000,000 higher in value than exports to the United States in 1920. The United States, in turn, exported to Canada goods to the value of $17,713,894, and to the United States $10,000,000.

Before the war, India imported approximately 800,000 tons of commodities from the United States. Last year, the value of Indian imports from the United States was $1,125,000, and it is now expected that there will be a further increase in value to $2,000,000 and $3,000,000.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has arranged with a number of British Columbia farmers and domestic who are willing to take care of the livestock of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The livestock will be taken care of by the railway company.

It is quite noticeable that the farms are a class in this district are more harvesting and in general doing their land a more thorough and perfect preparation this year than in previous years. Of course, this is partly due to the unusually warm and early start of the season, but it is also due to the fact that the farmer after a few years of low prices and short crops, would see the better crops of his neighbor across the fence, who employs more scientific methods of moisture conservation, and when necessity demands, as it seems to justify, would employ more scientific methods of moisture conservation, and endeavor to reap a reward of better compensating value.

DRY C. C. WALKER
About 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon Mr. Jones, living about three-quarters of a mile north of the townsite discovered that his barn was on fire. The fire was so well underway that he was able to do little toward saving its contents. He lost his granaries, barn, several sets of harness, oats and other feed. It is quite a misfortune to be deprived of feed at this season. Mr. Jones has been unable to ascertain the origin of the conflagration.

The Buffalo Hill local of the U. F. W. A. met with Mrs. White, Friday afternoon. Interesting and helpful papers on "The Care and Raising of Poultry" were read by Mr. R. B. Jones, Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Allen. Five minutes discussion was had after each paper, after which Mrs. McElrath dealt with the question of "Home Marketing of Poultry." The next meeting of this organization will be held Friday, May 4th, with Mrs. Geo. Leith.

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Kemper had as guests at their home Sunday, Messrs. Gayton Jones and family, B. B. Jones and family, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Camp and family, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Camp-Jones.

TOWN AND DISTRICT

The United Church Circle ladies held their spring sale on Saturday, May 4th at 5 p.m. in the Masonic Hall. The proceeds of the sale were for the benefit of the Ladies' Children's Press, Bazaar and Home Looking will be served.

The interest in the Saturday evening gatherings in the Union Church is still unabated, and an interesting account of the life and work of Dr. W. T. Grenfell, the hero of Labrador, was given last Saturday, with an excellent pictorial reproduction of Henry D. Dyck's "The Old Wise Man." The program for next Saturday will include a Pictorial Travels of "The Canadian Rockies," and the Union Industries of British Columbia.

Last Friday afternoon a debate in the Gleichen High School took place on the question, "Resolved, that the Wilfred Laurier was a better statesman than Sir John A. McDonald." The affirmative was taken by Hugh Beach and Vivian Brown, and the negative by Jim Maclean and Doris Mallory. The debate was an interesting one and resulted in the affirmative winning, yet all spoke well. It is a mistake that these students are not given to the call for announcement as the parents and friends would very much like to attend them. In fact school matters are not given the publicity they should, and the pupils, teachers and parents could make it much easier for themselves by supplying information to the parents and the newspapers generally.

ONE OF BLIND CREEK'S EARLY SETTLERS PASSES AWAY

The funeral of Mrs. Anna Walters of Blount, Alberta, took place at Gleichen Monday afternoon, the Rev. John Pat conducting a short service at the Gleichen cemetery. About fifty relatives and friends from Blind Creek were present to pay their respects at the last and since the deceased lady being widely known throughout this district by her first husband's name, Frank Walters, died January 14th, 1914, beside whom she was laid at rest here.

Previous to her death in a Calgary hospital, which occurred on Friday last, April 20th, deceased had been suffering 24 days. She had been operated on for cancer when other complications set in, finally resulting in pneumonia.

The deceased was 48 years of age and came to Alberta in 1905, and during that time made friends with all whom she came in contact.

Besides her husband, Mr. Walters, who survives but she leaves to mourn her demise three sons and one daughter, the latter being Mrs. Hugh Wilson; also two sisters and a brother, namely:

Mrs. C. A. Fair, who resides at Blind Creek, who is also well-known throughout the district. Mrs. L. L. Loeckstein, residing in the town of Blount, who has been a Jacob Rapp of Blount, North Dakota.

The most sincere sympathy is extended to the sorrowing relatives in their bereavement, and as a token of the esteem in which the departed mother and wife is held beautiful floral tributes now rest on the grave of the good kind woman.

The wise man does not necessarily offend anyone.
